HR.com, the largest global network of HR professionals, is proud to announce the formation of its new Employee Productivity and Engagement Advisory Board. Continuing to grow with new members, this expert panel will provide invaluable insights and guidance for HR.com's upcoming research initiatives, webcasts, and events dedicated to driving workplace productivity and engagement in 2025 and beyond.

The advisory board, composed of thought leaders and industry experts, will focus on uncovering innovative strategies to help organizations enhance employee performance, foster engagement, and create thriving workplace cultures. The board's collaboration will inform HR.com's efforts to equip HR professionals with actionable insights and best practices through its programs and resources.

The research findings from this initiative will be published in a comprehensive report offering detailed insights and recommendations from the HR Research Institute. Additionally, a condensed two-page infographic will provide a quick reference for key points. The next upcoming virtual event will include two days of informative sessions from a variety of subject matter experts in this area.
