candidate.fyi, a leading all-in-one candidate engagement platform, is excited to announce the launch of its innovative scheduling product. Designed to integrate seamlessly with calendaring systems and Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS), this new feature simplifies interview coordination for talent teams and candidates alike.

Key features of candidate.fyi's scheduling product includes:

- Self-booking interviews: Candidates can self-book interviews or submit their availability, aligning with your available interview slots for a hassle-free scheduling experience.
- Weekly interview limits: Set weekly interview limits and rotate interviewers to balance workloads.
- Tailored calendar invites: Create tailored calendar invites for interviewers and candidates, packed with the right information for a smooth scheduling process.
- Integration with candidate.fyi portal: Integrate scheduling directly within the candidate.fyi portal for a cohesive experience, or use as a standalone scheduling page.
- Automatic calendar holds: Send automatic calendar holds to candidates, reserving their interview time slots. These holds are updated to confirmed appointments once all confirmations are in place.

"We are thrilled to introduce our scheduling product to the market," said Kyle Connors, Founder and CEO of candidate.fyi. "We believe this feature will revolutionize the interview scheduling process, making it more efficient and organized for both talent teams and candidates."

candidate.fyi's product is trusted by leading talent teams like Yext, Omnicell, Synthesia and integrates with over 40 ATS, ensuring a seamless experience for all users. By offering this innovative solution, candidate.fyi continues to improve the candidate experience and streamline the recruitment process.
