HR.com, the largest network of human resources (HR) executives, is proud to announce the formation of HR.com's Future of Compensation and Total Rewards 2024 Advisory Board. This distinguished panel of industry experts will collaborate with HR.com's HR Research Institute (HRRRI) to shape the future of HR practices. Their collective expertise will provide invaluable insights into cutting-edge compensation and total rewards strategies, equipping organizations to attract, engage, and retain top talent through innovative tools, technology, and trends.

The advisory board provides a platform for thought leaders to engage in discussions on critical topics, share their knowledge, and offer valuable insights. This collaboration will support the development of comprehensive research and the dissemination of best practices within the HR community.

The findings from the research will be published in a full report of insights and recommendations as well as a condensed two-page infographic. The study will also be featured in the upcoming virtual event which is scheduled for November 20, 2024. The board members will be valuable in recommending presenters, session topics, and helping to make the event best-in-class for HR professionals in attendance.
