Stacey and Bryan Eisenberg are proud to announce the opening of their senior home care agency on October 1st, 2023. Their agency is serving the north Austin communities of Round Rock, Hutto, Georgetown, Cedar Park, Leander, Liberty Hill, and Brushy Creek. They have selected the A Place at Home franchise, renowned for its numerous accolades from the Home Care Pulse awards. Home Care Pulse is a nationally recognized reputation management company and they award Best of Home Care® to top-ranking home care providers, based on client and caregiver satisfaction survey scores. This decision was influenced by the franchise's exceptional performance in the Best of Home Care® rankings.

Stacey Eisenberg's deep-rooted connection with the senior care industry began in her early childhood. With a mother working in a nursing home, Stacey was immersed in this environment from the tender age of three. By 13, she was employed at a nursing home. Over the subsequent four decades, her commitment to the industry has been unwavering. Stacey's vast experience spans various roles, from opening assisted living and memory care residences to her dedicated work in nursing homes and independent senior living communities. Her primary motivation is her heartfelt passion for upholding the dignity and welfare of seniors.

In her most recent role, Stacey passionately served as the "Director of Fun" for nearly 300 independent living seniors, where she masterfully coordinated a wide range of events, activities, and excursions. A common thread throughout her career has been her personal approach to caregiving, treating her seniors as an extension of her own family and enlisting her children's help in supporting her clients. With her training as a recreation therapist and fueled by her deep sense of duty, Stacey brings a relentless passion and respect for seniors into her work daily. Stacey is often referred to as the "senior care expert" for her compassionate and resourceful approach to caring for seniors.

Bryan Eisenberg, Stacey's husband, brings his expertise as a New York Times bestselling author and an internationally recognized authority in Customer Experience. Together, they are poised to create an agency that prioritizes the well being of caregivers and clients above everything else. We firmly believe that happy caregivers result in happy clients.

With their combined strengths and experiences, the Eisenbergs are committed to setting a gold standard in senior care for the north Austin communities.
