The much-awaited IIT Bay Area Leadership Conference, which aims to connect the IIT community across the globe, including industry and academic luminaries, business leaders, philanthropists, engineers, disruptive startup founders, and investors, is set to commence this year at the Santa Clara Convention Center on September 16, 2023.

RChilli, a proud member of Oracle Partner Network (OPN) & the parsing solution in Oracle Recruiting Booster, announced that it is exhibiting at the event. As a leading exhibitor, RChilli will showcase its cutting-edge and intelligent AI-driven recruitment solution, specially designed to assist recruiters in streamlining their recruitment practices and enhancing the candidate and recruiter experience.

Specifically tailored to empower recruiters, this technology promises to simplify recruitment practices and enhance both the candidate and recruiter experiences. Moreover, it aims to usher in a new era of diversity, exclusivity, and inclusion (DEI) in hiring, eliminating biases from the equation.

In synergy with the event's themes this year, Resilience & Reinvention: Thriving through turbulent times, RChilli brings to the podium a catalog of its innovative solutions, including Resume Parser, JD Parser, Search & Match Engine, Taxonomy, Resume Redactor, Data Migration, and ML Plugins.

RChilli team's dedication to delivering sophisticated recruitment solution plugins to Oracle HCM and PeopleSoft users is evident in the innovative features they catalog this year. Among these features are comprehensive data migration, reprocessing, and turn-key solution- RChilli Candidate Recharge (RCR) that aims to supercharge the hiring process, empower candidates, and redefine talent acquisition.

Also helping Salesforce users globally are RChilli's innovative search & match capability, email integration feature, automating manual resume screening, & speed up their recruitment process by automating the process of extracting applicant information from resumes and storing it in the Salesforce platform.

Commenting on the company's participation in the event, Vinay Johar, CEO of RChilli and an esteemed IIT alumnus, stated, "IIT represents a community of exceptionally intellectual individuals who have demonstrated their capacity to effect global change. I am delighted to announce our second opportunity to present our EA (Enterprise Application) solution in the field of Human Resources, a solution that has already left a significant mark on countless enterprises and is advancing rapidly.”

Vinay further adds, “Our presence among such a distinguished assembly of high-intellect individuals is a source of great prestige for us. As we move forward, we eagerly anticipate the reception of feedback, acceptance, and guidance from this esteemed group.”
