CRPS is a chronic pain condition that affects the limbs, typically after an injury or trauma. The pain is often severe, constant, and accompanied by various symptoms such as swelling, changes in skin temperature, and limited mobility. Dr. Scott, the founding doctor at Scott Integrated Pain Management, understands the challenges faced by CRPS patients and is dedicated to finding effective pain management solutions.

“CRPS pain can significantly impact a patient’s quality of life, making even simple daily tasks unbearable,” says Dr. Scott. “At Scott Integrated Pain Management, we are committed to finding opioid alternatives and providing relief for some of the most challenging pain conditions known. The addition of ketamine treatment for CRPS pain aligns with our mission to offer innovative and effective solutions for our patients.”

Ketamine has shown promising results in managing chronic pain, including CRPS. As a dissociative anesthetic, ketamine works by interacting with certain receptors in the brain and spinal cord, reducing pain signals and providing analgesic effects. The use of ketamine treatment for CRPS pain is gaining recognition within the medical community and has shown the potential to provide long-lasting relief for patients.

“We are thrilled to offer ketamine treatment as an option for CRPS pain management,” says Dr. Scott. “Our team of highly skilled professionals is dedicated to providing comprehensive and personalized care to our patients. By incorporating ketamine treatment into our pain management strategies, we aim to improve the lives of CRPS patients by alleviating their pain and improving their overall well-being.”

Scott Integrated Pain Management is in-network with various insurance providers, including Medicare, United Healthcare, Independence Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Cigna, and Highmark Blueshield. This ensures that patients can easily access the innovative ketamine treatment for CRPS pain without financial barriers.
